

ARCHITECTURE

A Show for Dreamers

Sunday March 13, 2011

Luxury lovers can fulfill their wildest dreams at the 10th annual Architectural Digest Home Show held at Pier 94 in New York City March 17 through March 20, 2011.

Hundreds of exhibitors will showcase upscale furnishings, kitchen & bath products, flooring, fabric, and lighting.

The $25 general admission fee also includes design seminars, complimentary one-on-one design consultations, and a pass to the Artists Project, where you can buy works by 150+ artists.

Do you dream of living in luxury? Describe your dream home (and find out what our readers are dreaming).

Photo: Exhibitors at the Architectural Digest Home Design Show include Morqan-Brown, a firm that designs luxury boutique homes like the one shown here.